GREENSBORO GAS DRILLS IN BIG WELL AT ARDARA

One of Best Strikes of Recent Years Made by Local Supplying Company

50,000,000 FEET IN 24 HOURS

The Greensboro Gas company which supplies domestic consumers of Charleroi, Donora, California and Brownsville, among other points, has made one of the best strikes of recent years at their field on the Harkness farm at Ardara, two and one-half miles from Irwin. Their well recently brought in there is doing at least 50,000,000 feet every 24 hours Sunday it was increasing, but today it was on the decrease as efforts were continued toward properly controlling the supply.

The well is claimed by drillers to be the best ever struck in the state. Its roar can be heard continually in Irwin. A town boom has been started as a result.

Experts have given up the plan to cap the well and an effort is being made to put in a smaller casing.

WILL ORGANIZE MILITARY COMPANY AT W. & J.

Dr. L. F. Kirchner will take steps to immediately institute military training at Washington and Jefferson college when the members of the student body return to resume their studies following the Easter vacation and is also likely that plans to organize a full company among the undergraduates will be taken up.

W. & J. authorities have made application to the war department for an instructor but with the United States planning to raise immediately an army of 1,200,000 all men eligible as instructors will be needed to drill the recruits who will rally around the colors within a few days.

Dr. Kirchner has always kept in close touch with military training and students who have been at the instruction camp at Plattsburg will prove valuable assistants.

Captain John Aiken and Lieutenants Dinsmore and Braden, of Company H, will also be invited to assist whenever they can find time.

With the institution of actual training, plans which have been discussed among students to organize a company will receive a decided impetus it is thought.

W. S. SWEENEY COMPLETES FIRST YEAR AT MAJESTIC

Manager W. S. Sweeney of the Majestic theatre is celebrating his first anniversary in local theatre work, having closed his first year the first part of April. Success has attended his every effort and he is entering his second year with splendid prospects.

Today Manager Sweeney is featuring Jean Sawyer and Stuart Holmes in "Love's Law," as one of the superior attractions of his anniversary month.

ANOTHER CRIB WASHED AWAY BY HIGH WATER

Repair Work in Fixing Dam at No. 4 Further Hampered—Government Men Putting Craft in Shape Now for Strain of Near Future.

Another crib was washed out by high water from above the broken part of Dam No. 4 Sunday morning, this being the second crib to go since the river began to raise last Friday. First a 60 foot crib was taken Saturday, together with considerable pilging. The crib washed out Sunday was a 20 foot crib.

This morning the river was reported to be stationary at 9.6 feet, having risen one-tenth of a foot during the night in spite of the great break in the dam and the great rush of water. While the water is high repair forces are unable to work and are fixing up their derrick boats and other crafts for the strain that will be put on them as soon as there is a drop in the river.

The Tri Cities Water company is now well fixed for water, having had their pumps going steadily. They have 12 feet of water in the Charleroi reservoir, a plentiful supply for the present.

MUCH COAL GOES THROUGH LOCK 4

Shipments Keep Up During March According to Report of Lockmaster

COAL MEN WORKING HARD NOW

Coal shipping through Lock No. 4 in March totaled 16,899,000 bushels, according to the lock report furnished today. Navigation was suspended three days and 14 hours during the month, by reason of high water, otherwise the record would have been much better.

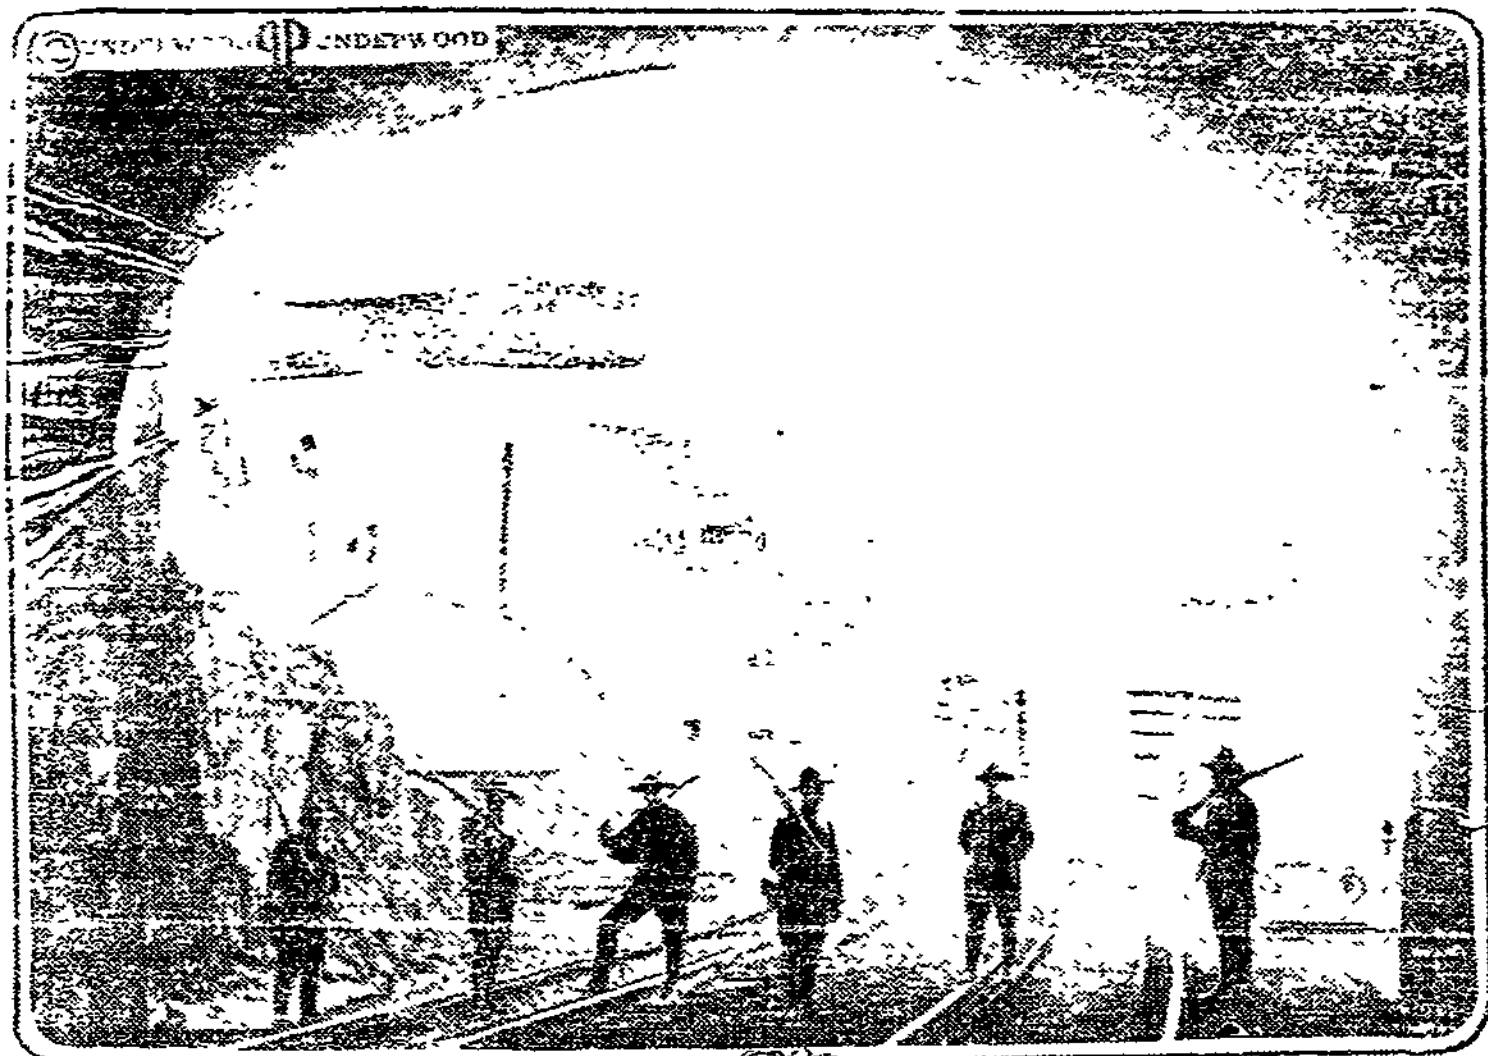

Following is the report of Lockmaster Sweeney: Down stream—lockages 383, steamers 303, loaded craft, 1,291, coal 16,899,000 bushels, coke 5,000 bushels, iron products 30 tons, brick 50,000, lumber 20,000 board feet, general merchandise 212 tons, live stock 9, passengers 19. Up stream—lockages 397, steamers 304, empties 1,321, rafts 1, other craft 89, iron products 60 tons, sand 12,000 bushels, gravel 9,000 bushels, stone 935 cubic yards, lumber 58,000 board feet, merchandise 315 tons, live stock 30, passengers 12.

The rainfall of the month was 2.58. Coal men are working hard now to take advantage of the high stage of water in the fourth pool.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR FINAL CHORUS REHEARSALS

Arrangements have been made for the final rehearsals for the oratorio, "Elijah," Mendelssohn, which will be presented by a Charleroi chorus in the near future. Tuesday and Thursday evenings have been set apart for rehearsal at the Methodist Episcopal church and Sunday afternoon for practice at the Majestic theatre. The chorus is working hard on the preparation of the oratorio, which will be one of the biggest things in music ever attempted here.

MILITIAMEN GUARD ENTRANCE TO RAILROAD TUNNEL "SOMEWHERE IN NEW YORK STATE"

As the United States is "wep" on to the brink of war, extraordinary preparations to meet any emergency are being made throughout the country. Particular significance attaches to the movement of troops of the militia about in New York because of the close secrecy observed. These men are shown at the mouth of a railroad tunnel "somewhere in New York State." They are members of the Seventy-first Regiment, which left its armory on Sunday under secret order. Detachments have been stationed over a wide area at strategic points.

BURGESSES ASKED TO HELP RECRUIT MEN

Replica of Paul Revere Ride in Plans of Recruiting Committee on National Defense—Lexington Day, to Be Commemorated.

Following a meeting in New York City, Alexander J. Hemphill, chairman of the recruiting committee on National Defense, has telegraphed to mayors and burgesses of numerous cities and towns of the United States requesting cooperation in a national recruiting campaign. Burgess S. L. Woodward of Charleroi received a telegram this morning announcing plans.

According to the plans of the committee it is intended to duplicate the ride of Paul Revere on the anniversary of the battle of Lexington, April 18, when the famous poem will be read in theatres, churches and school houses and depicted on the screen of motion picture houses, while on the anniversary of the rout of the English at Concord Bridge, the modern Lexington alarm will be sounded by airplanes, the ringing of church bells and fire bells and the blowing of factory whistles.

The recruiting committee was first appointed by Mayor Mitchell of New York, with the cooperation of the army, navy and marine corps officers.

Elaborate Programs of Music Feature Easter Services in Churches

Coming as a climax to events of grave importance to Christendom and marking the anniversary of the Resurrection of Christ, Easter day in Charleroi was made a great church day. In spite of the prevailing coolness and inclement weather, crowds were attracted out by the splendid offerings in the way of music and Resurrection sermons.

Weather had little effect on Easter from a millinery standpoint, and new hats and spring togs were to be seen in great variety. In short, but for the discouraging effect of the weather, Easter was an ideal occasion.

Special music was rendered in every church. Edward Wheeler was in charge of the choir at St. Jerome's Catholic church, with Mrs. Bertha Kleist as organist. Rev. S. A. Welch, assistant pastor was in charge. Music appropriate to the Easter mass at 11 o'clock was rendered.

Under the direction of Prof. I. T. Daniel, with Miss Leha Orange as accompanist the choir of the First Presbyterian church rendered a special musical program of much merit Sunday evening. Those having special parts included Mrs. I. T. Daniel, Mrs. H. W. Tweed, Miss Edith Woodhall, Mrs. R. H. Rush, Miss Mabel Orange, Miss Esther Dreyer, Mrs. W. E. Hennings, Mrs. A. J. Whipkey, Mrs. R. G. Todd, W. C. Clark, E. K. Heyser, Herbert Dreyer, vocalists, and Miss Callie Bell and Claire Gusweiler, violinists. Rev. A. J. Whip-

"THE CRISIS" GREAT NOVEL; REPRODUCTION AT THE COYLE

Little need be said about "The Crisis" as a novel, at this date. Perhaps no greater story on the question of slavery was ever written. Thirty-two editions of the book have been printed since it first appeared in 1900. In addition to its vogue in America and England "The Crisis" has been translated into ten different languages and is read all over the world. Among the characters in "The Crisis," transferred from the book to the picture screen, are Abraham Lincoln, General Grant, General Sherman, and many other immortal personages of the Reconstruction period. From an educational standpoint alone, "The Crisis" has positive value—although its chief claim to popularity is said to lie in its intensely human characters, its patriotic theme and its romantic story of the life of a spirited Southern girl for an ambitious Yankee lawyer who has made a name for himself in St. Louis just before the outbreak of the war. The scenes of "The Crisis" are all laid in and around St. Louis with the exception of those depicting the battle of Vicksburg which were actually taken on the heroic ground. "The Crisis" will be produced at the Coyle theatre Thursday and Friday. School pupils of the public and business schools of Charleroi, North Charleroi and Speers will be admitted for 25 cents either afternoon.

ALL WIRELESS STATIONS MUST BE DISMANTLED

Such in Effect is Order Received by Radio Men Here Today

SCORE IN THIS TERRITORY

All aerial wires and radio apparatus in Charleroi and other points in the state must be immediately dismantled, and all sending and receiving apparatus disconnected, according to an order issued today. Such is the official information contained in a notice received by Carl H. Rauschenberg, machine operator at the Coyle theatre, and the only amateur operator here who had applied for a license. Mr. Rauschenberg was asked to inform all wireless or radio men in his district of the order.

Forty-eight hours time is given for the dismantling of the apparatus. The notice, bearing the official stamp of the navigation service of the Department of Commerce, was signed by J. F. Dillon, United States Radio Inspector.

There are possibly a score of amateur wireless stations in Charleroi and environs. In Charleroi alone there are seven and in Monongahela seven. Fewer stations are located in Donora and Monessen than in Charleroi.

MONESSEN HOLDS PATRIOTIC RALLY

Ten Thousand Marchers Take Part in Saturday Night Parade

FOREIGN BORN MEN IN LINE

Monessen was the scene of a great patriotic demonstration Saturday night, of which a parade was the chief feature. Probably 10,000 men were in line, each man carrying a flag. The procession was led by veteran soldiers of the Civil war and the Veteran Guard Drum corps of Charleroi. Behind them came the hundreds of men from various organizations and the several Monessen mills. Foreign born residents turned out in great style and marched to the martial music. Seven bands played.

The parade ended at Seventh street and Donner avenue, where speaking took place from an open platform. John G. Parke was chairman and the orators were Wooda Carr of Uniontown and W. T. Don of Greensburg.

LOCAL VIOLINIST AIDES BROWNSVILLE CHOIR EASTER

Miss Norma Bosson, violinist of Charleroi, participated in a special Easter program at the Brownsville First Presbyterian church, rendering two selections. Miss Ethel Barth, of Charleroi, who is soprano of the choir, sang one selection.

GARDEN NEWS

Aided by the National Emergency Food Garden Commission the Mail is conducting a garden column that is attracting general attention. In that the column is concise and instructive that is of the utmost value.

This year many inexperienced gardeners are planning gardens. Lacking the knowledge needed for raising garden crops they turn to the Mail for help. It is to offset this lack of knowledge that the garden column is being published.

Of course the garden column has to be generally applicable, yet it is specific. It is specific in that it treats of the cultivation of the important green stuff of some gardens, giving detailed attention to the sort of stuff of home gardens, home gardeners are in their small way compelled to devoted the most time.

In this period, when there is such need of cultivation of the land, the gardening news is of especial importance. It becomes almost a patriotic duty for those who can to raise food products.

FOOD-WASTE

Good food heedlessly thrown into garbage pails, food allowed to spoil in the household, food ruined by improper cooking, and food destroyed by rats, mice and insects constitute the heavy items in the $700,000,000 annual waste of food in homes in this country cited recently by the Secretary of Agriculture. Seven hundred million dollars is considered to be a conservative figure. In household waste, of course, are not included the vast losses of food allowed under improper handling or inefficient marketing methods to spoil in transit or in the hands of producers or dealers.

Much of this $700,000,000 household waste of food, the dietary specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture declare, is easily preventable.
This preventable waste consists in large part of the following items: Edible food thrown into the garbage pail or into the kitchen sink.
That vast amounts of nourishing material are thrown out from American kitchens and so made useless for human consumption, is well established by the returns from garbage and fertilizer plants showing the amount of fats and nitrogenous material recovered from city garbage.

Spillage of food due to careless handling and storing in the home. Important amounts of perishable foods are made unnecessary to heat, freeze, dust, dirt, or to flies and other unsects.

Food spoiled by careless cooking.
Many housewives who complain that children and adults will not eat breakfast cereals fail to realize that the cereals they serve are under-cooked, scorched, or improperly seasoned and thus made unpalatable. Most of the cheaper foods require careful seasoning and preparation to be fully appetizing. In many households, the specialists believe, proper attention to the cooking of these cheap and desirable foods will increase greatly their consumption and thus reduce considerably the use of more expensive foods eaten instead of cereals.

Waste in preparation. Much food gets into the garbage pail because the housewife in preparing potatoes or other vegetables and fruit, such as apples, cuts off with the skin a considerable percentage of edible material. Careless paring of potatoes may consign as much as 20 per cent of the edible portion, including outer layers containing valuable mineral substances.

Overgenerous serving of food.
Many families take pride in serving lavish and overabundant meals. Such meals lead inevitably to waste of food on the table and to overeating, which often impairs health and efficiency. The safe standard, "Eat enough food and no more," rigidly followed, would reduce greatly food costs in many homes and, at the same time, tend to improve the physical condition of all members of the household. Eat for efficiency.

Battle Hymn of the Republic

MY eyes have seen the glory Of the coming Lord;
He is tramping out the vine-age where the grapes of wrath are stored.
He hath loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible, quick sword:
His truth is marching on

I have seen Him in the watchfires
Of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded Him an altar in the evening dew and damps;
I have read His righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps:

His day is marching on.

I have read a fiery gospel, writ in burnished rows of steel,
"As ye deal with My contempters, so with you My grace shall deal."
Let the Hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with His heel,

Since God is marching on.

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sitting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat.
Oh, be swift, my soul, to answer Him! Be jubilant, my feet!

Our God is marching on.

In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me;
As He died to make men holy, let us die to make men free, owners in this country have taught us the lesson of patriotism! An incident happened some time ago in New York City.

Downtown there is a store where one can trade cigaret coupons for premiums. If you want cash, the coupons are worth half a cent, apiece.
The store is filled with glass cases, in which there are silver coffee urns, genuine chinaware, collar buttons, fish poles, etc.

I was cashing a number of coupons when a swarthy Italian entered and snuffed up to the counter. His hair looked as if it had never felt a comb.
His hands and face were covered with mud from the building excavations across the street. In his fist he held a crumbled and greasy mass of coupons, which he shoved half timidly over the counter.

The girl clerk was a gum chewer.
More than that, she was painted and powdered until her features resembled the side of a newly painted barn.
"Whaddy ya wan?" she cheered, eyeing the Italian closely from under her penciled eyebrows.

"Gimme da bigga flag," he whispered.

It was the most natural thing in the world to hand him a cheap Italian flag. The man touched it devotedly with his soiled fingers. A far away look entered his eyes. "No dis a-onewan' de Unita State flag."

I left the store, gazing at my eighty-nine cents rather shamefacedly.

WHAT CAN'T WE EXCEL

The statements of Ruth Law, the youthful navigator of the air, may be seen thrusts between the ribs of Americans who fancy that our superiority extends into every field. She has just returned to the United States after a tour of two months among the aerial craft headquarters of the Allies' armies and confesses that we are so far behind Europe in the matter of flying machines that she was astonished and her Yankee pride somewhat crumpled. As an air enthusiast, naturally her observations took but one direction and her judgment just as naturally embraces one military point —the aeroplane service in time of war. If she overestimates the value of air craft, the error must be charged to an unbiased fanatical enthusiasm, but she talks facts that should interest all who are doing their best to keep abreast of the times.

Miss Law begins by declaring there isn't an air machine in the United States which could make even a respectable attempt to meet the requirements of war planes in France. The blow is softened somewhat by the fact that almost all the European air craft use American made motors and since the motor is the heart of the machine, American here needs no intention to conclude that when we get started the rest of the world will be using complete machines of Yankee make. The test for the French war planes is a climb of not less than 10,000 feet a minute with full load of ordnance, gun, pilot, and fuel for a flight of not less than three hours. A fact Miss Law says not one machine in America could face successfully, mainly because of the bulk and weight, as compared to the French machines, which are small, light and extremely light. We may have no immediate need for an army and airman and machines, but the modern air scouting equipment might as well be begun now to be ready when the necessity for prompt service does come. If we can make the best motors why not the other parts equally well?—Pittsburg Dispatch.

THE WOMEN'S REVOLU- TION

FROM NEW YORK TRIBUNE

It is hard to realize the utter overturn of British political thought which has now been recorded in the House of Commons.
Less than three years of war, a brief hour in the lifetime of a nation, have served to destroy the deep-rooted prejudice of generations. The opposition to woman's suffrage has, in effect, collapsed.

The uphill fight which Mrs. Pankhurst led so long turns suddenly to sweeping victory.

It is a revolution, a peaceful revolution, and nothing less, that we witness. And it comes, as did the Russian revolution, as a direct consequence of the greatest and most terrible of wars. The pacifist struggles unconsciously with this premise and conclusion, but there is no escaping the fact.
However the centuries may rate the Great War, it has become the Great War of Liberation to our contemporary eyes. No equal period in history has compassed such vast advances toward the democratization of the world.

Forces greater than kings or ministers or parties have been un-fused, barriers that seemed impenetrable have been swept aside, and the end is not yet.

Even for Americans still afar from the war it is impossible not to feel the splendor of this latest victory. It was won by the women of England on the battlefield—literally, for the modern war of nations is waged quite as desperately at the forge and lathe as in the trenches. There is no mistaking the spirit in which such a fixed opponent as Mr. Asquith announced his change of view.

"Wherever one turned," he declared, "might be seen women who, without detriment to the prerogatives of their sex, were performing work which three years ago would have been regarded as falling exclusively within the province of men."

The revolution progresses more slowly in peaceful America. Yet it is impossible not to feel the gathering weight of its advance.
When all parties and candidates adopted the cause in the last Presidential election, the end came into view. Since then state after state has fallen into line—Ohio, Indiana, Michigan on the road. The women of New York can face the result in this State next November with every confidence. It surely will not be said of America that she lagged far behind the rest of the world in recognizing the rights and liberties of women.

The once Danish West Indies come under the Stars and Stripes.
Henceforth they will be our Virgin Isles, though only in the sense of nomenclature, not of being our first. Our "virgin isle" in that part of the world is Porto Rico.
Sentiment and interest may well cluster around the new possessions for they are beautiful islands, and their history includes some of the most picturesque incidents of West Indian development and warfare. The harbor of St.
Thomas may come in very handy during the war with Germany. It guards the Virgin Passage well, and our whole fleet could easily ride in its waters. St. Croix, St.

welcome under the flag.

Kirsch Rods Can't Sag—Never Tarnish

We sell the celebrated Kirsch Flat Curtain Rods, as shown in the above cuts. It's time to bid the old clumsy, awkward curtain poles, so hard to handle, good bye, and put up the new Kirsch Rods. They are flat, won't sag, won't tarnish, easy to hang, and don't catch dust and dirt. Ask to see them when you buy your new curtains. We have them in single or double drapery effect.

Rugs and Carpets

At this time we are specially proud of the showing in our Rug and Carpet department. There are hundreds of new rugs and many yards of carpets in the most beautiful patterns.

key preached a special Easter day sermon at the morning service.

Sunrise prayer meeting was held by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. Rev. John R. Burson preached an Easter sermon at the morning service. At 7:30 o'clock under direction of John F. Bowman, with Miss Bethel Bowman as accompanist, the choir rendered a program of Easter music. Anthems were sung by the choir. Soloists were Miss Emma Clutter, Miss Grace Fleming and Walter Ailes. A ladies' quartet consisting of Misses Clutter, Nora Swan, Grace Fleming and Marnie Rockwell sang. Easterday was flowerday at the Methodist Episcopal church, as an innovation. The entire front of the church was a mass of flowers and greens, more than 100 families in the church contributing to the decorations. Among the flowers was a large G by 8 flag on a 15 foot pole, presented by the Good Will Bible class. A flag salute was given by the Sunday school under Miss Price Frye's direction and "America" sung. A male quartet rendered a selection. Rev. C. A. Hartung preached a masterful sermon at the morning service and the choir contributed an anthem. In the evening, Miss E. M. Biehl from India made an address. The choir directed by A. H. Bosson, with Mrs. Floyd Chalfant as organist, rendered two anthems. Soloists were Earl Nicholson, Miss Elizabeth Frew, Miss Price Frye and Miss Mary Glunt.

A splendid musical program especially appropriate for Easter was rendered by the choir of St. Mary's Episcopal church. Services began with holy communion at 8 o'clock with morning prayer and holy communion at 11. Evening prayer was at 7:30. At each service Rev. John Lyons preached special sermons.

The First Christian Sunday school began a contest Easter Sunday with the Knoxville Christian church. In the morning as well as evening Rev. E. N. Dady preached special sermons and the choir directed by Mrs. Daragh rendered special Easter music.

In the absence of the pastor, Prof. E. P. McCormick spoke at the Baptist services at the First Baptist church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Communion was observed at the French Presbyterian church and at each service the pastor, Dr. J. E. Charles, delivered appropriate Easter sermons. Music was a feature.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS ARRANGE CHARITY BALL

Local members of the Knights of Columbus and their friends will be largely represented next Wednesday evening at the annual charity ball to be held at the Shrine's Mosque, Pittsburgh, under the auspices of Pittsburgh Chapter, K. of C. The Mosque, which is located in the Schenley Farms district, is admittedly one of the most magnificent fraternal homes in the world, and those who attend the charity ball will have an opportunity to see it at its best. The ballroom floor will accommodate three thousand dancers at one time, and the dining and card rooms will accommodate two thousand comfortably. Lounging and rest parlors, check rooms and all other accessories are the last word in comfort and refined elegance.

Non-members of the Knights of Columbus, and non-Catholics, will attend the ball in large numbers. The receipts are always devoted to charity, over $20,000 having been distributed in this way during the past eight years.

Progressive euchre is always an important feature of the ball, and this year's plans are more ambitious than ever, with favors of special worth, including chiefly life membership in the Pittsburgh Speedway Association.

SCHOOL TEACHER

Anaemic, Run-Down, Nervous—How She Recovered.

There are so many cases like this right here in Charleroi that we are publishing this interesting letter with the hope that a me of our customers will try Vinol and get the same happy result that Miss Baez did.

Key West, Fla.—"I am a teacher and I was anaemic, nervous, run-down, no energy or desire to do anything, I could not sleep and had that languid, nervous feeling that made me a burden to myself. I had taken various tonics without benefit. I heard of Vinol and tried it. Soon I had a good appetite, could sleep all night and it built me up so I have the ambition to do any kind of work." Mary I. Baez, Key West, Fla.

The reason Vinol was so successful in this case is because it is a constitutional remedy that goes to the seat of trouble. The peptonate of iron, manganese and hypophosphates contained in Vinol enriches and revitalizes the blood, while the strengthening, tissue-building properties of beef and cod liver peptone aid in building up the tired, overworked, run-down system. GARDEN COLUMN

The Mail is conducting this column with the co-operation of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission to inspire the planting of more food gardens throughout the country. Members of the commission are, Charles Lathrop, Pack, president of American Forestry Association; Luther Burbank, Dr. Charles W. Ellet; Prof. Irving Fisher; John Hays Hammond; Fairfax Harrison; Myron T. Herrick; Dr. John Grier Hibben; Emerson McMillin; A. W. Shaw; Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture; Capt. J. B. White, U. S. Shipping Board; James Wilson, former secretary of agriculture. You should watch this column every day. Any questions should be written on one side of the paper and sent to the Garden Editor of the Mail.

HOEING.

The good garden is one which is frequently hoed, says today's bulletin from the National Emergency Food Garden Commission of Washington, which is cooperating with this paper in urging food garden planting to cut the cost of living.

Frequent hoeing stirs the soil, keeps it loose for the plant roots, liberates the fertility, and forms a dust cover which keeps the soil beneath it moist and mellow.

Hoeing may start as soon as the eye can follow the green rows. Indeed, it is sometimes desirable to start before, particularly if rain and sun have caked the dirt over seeds before the sprouts can get to the surface. In that case this crust should be broken up.

Do not hoe to kill weeds and only so you may cut the plant roots. About one inch deep is enough.

When rows are close together hoe over the entire ground, for the roots of many garden plants spread out. In any case, the ground should be hoed for 1 foot around the base of the plant.

Hoe every ten days at least, and always after a rain or watering to break the crust which forms.

Do not hoe to kill weeds and only when that is necessary, as many gardeners do. Hoe for plant cultivation, and hoe frequently that weeds do not have a chance to start.

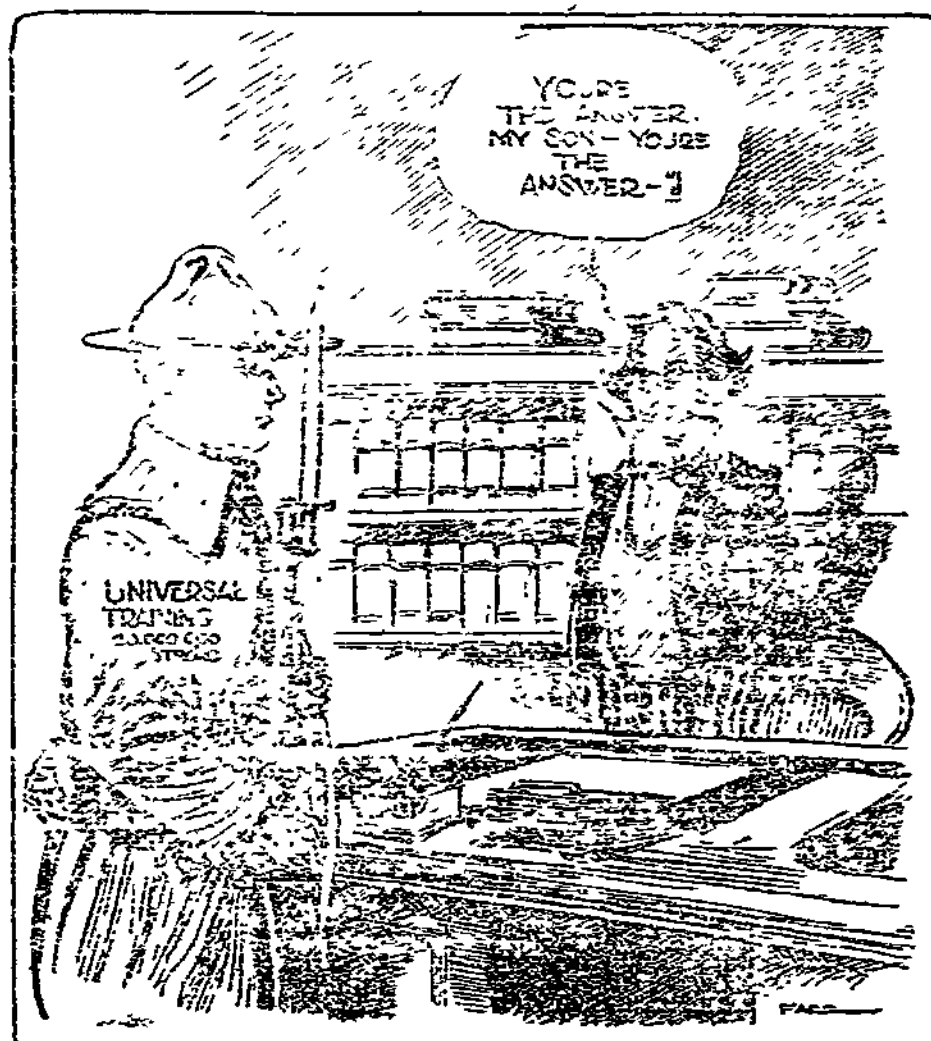

Other tools which the gardener uses are spading fork, a cut steel rake, a 10 foot measuring pole, stakes and a line for laying off rows, dibbles for punching holes in the ground for transplanting, a trowel, a hand weeder, a wheelbarrow and a watering can.

Miner Found Dead.

Gustave Fischer, a miner employed by the Ellsworth Collieries company, was found dead in a shanty Friday. No marks of violence were on the body and it is believed that death was due to heart failure. Deputy Coroner James V. McDonough took charge of the body. Buryal was in the Scenery Hill cemetery. Fischer had no relatives.

BROKEN DOWN IN HEALTH

Woman Tells How $5 Worth of Pinkham's Compound Made Her Well

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my lady friends came to see me and she advised me to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sarsaparilla. I began taking your remedies and took $5.00 worth and in two months was a well woman after three doctors said I never would stand up straight again. I was a midwife for seven years and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all got along so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write to me I will be delighted to answer them." —Mrs. JENNIE MOYER, 342 E. North St., Lima, Ohio.

Women who suffer from displacements, weakness, irregularities, nervousness, backache, or bearing-down pains, need the tonic properties of the roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
